Built in 1845, The Kent-Valentine House is a visually prominent mansion that has been restored to preserve its original design, reflecting Colonial and Gothic revival influences. The rooms are beautifully furnished with handsome antiques, recreating a genteel 19th century ambiance.

The first floor parlors offer a unique setting for wedding ceremonies, receptions, rehearsal dinners or social gatherings. The third floor meeting space provides a spacious area that will accommodate up to 100 people.

The House is situated in Richmond's historic Monroe Ward district, conveniently located a few blocks from I-195. Call today to reserve your space and allow us to provide a memorable setting for your special occasion.
